Defendants.

Civil Action No. 07CV11480 (RWS)

DECLARATION OF CARLOS RAY NORRIS
A/K/A CHUCK NORRIS

I, Carlos Ray Norris, hereby declare under penalty of perjury:

1. My name is Carlos Ray Norris. Most people know me by my professional name "Chuck Norris". I am the plaintiff in this case, as Defendants' wrongful use of my name and image threatens my reputation and my rights. I submit this Declaration in support of my motion for a preliminary injunction to halt the further publication and distribution of a book entitled "The Truth About Chuck Norris" and the further use of Internet domain names incorporating my name ("truthaboutchucknorris.com" and "truthaboutchuck.com"). I object to these unauthorized commercial uses of my name and my image.
2. I have been fortunate to have a rewarding career as an actor, a martial arts specialist, and an author. My acting career spans the past three decades. I have starred in over twenty films, including Missing in Action and The Delta Force, and I played the leading role in the television show Walker, Texas Ranger. Before I was an actor, I spent many successful years as a martial arts specialist and instructor. I was a six-time undefeated World Professional Middleweight Karate Champion. In 1997, I became the first man in the Western Hemisphere to be awarded an 8th degree Black Belt Grand Master recognition in the Tae Kwon Do system. I also founded the United Fighting Arts Federation, an organization whose members study the way of a particular martial arts method called "Chun Kuk Do." Now I also sponsor the World Combat League, a competitive professional martial arts fighting league that began in 2005.

3. One of my most rewarding accomplishments has been the success of the non-profit KickStart Program. That is part of the "Kick Drugs Out of America Foundation" that I helped establish in 1990. I continue to support KickStart through royalties received from licenses for the use of my name and image, as well as in other ways. KickStart teaches at-risk children martial arts as part of their school curriculum to help raise their self-esteem and instill discipline and respect for themselves and others. A more thorough explanation can be found at KickStart's website, www.kick-start.org.
4. I also actively support our men and women in uniform. I have served as a spokesperson for the Veterans Administration and visited veterans in numerous hospitals. I also visited the troops in Iraq twice in the past two years to thank them personally for their service to our country.
5. I have published numerous books, both non-fiction and fiction. Among my non-fiction books are "The Secret of Inner Strength," an autobiography, which was a 1998 New York Times Bestseller, "Against All Odds", which was published in 2005, and "Winning Tournament Karate." Among fiction books, I co-wrote "A Threat to Justice" and other "Justice Rider" novels, which explore themes of honor and patriotism in the Old West. My books are still in print and are available from Amazon.com, BarnesandNoble.com and other on-line and retail stores. A copy of sample pages from Amazon.com advertising my books for sale is annexed as Exhibit 1. I also write a weekly column for WorldNetDaily, an Internet publication.

6. As a result of my acting, my martial arts skills, and my public service, my name and image are well-known in the United States and throughout the world. It is important to me that my name and image are used only with my permission, for causes I support or products I have reviewed and approved. My credibility and reputation are very important to me. I am loyal to my family, my friends and my fans. I do not endorse products or causes unless I believe in them.
7. I take care to protect my identity and reputation. For example, I have registered several trademarks in the United States Patent and Trademark Office to protect my rights. These include the following trademarks: "Chuck Norris", "Chuck Norris Facts" and "Chuck Norris is ... the Fact." A copy of those trademark registrations is annexed as Exhibit 2.
8. I authorize my name and image, and my trademarks, to be used on certain products or websites. I receive many more requests to use my name, image, and trademarks than I grant. I only endorse products that meet my standards for quality and that are consistent with my personal values. As part of my business interests, I have authorized the use of my name on t-shirts, mugs, posters, and other items. Examples of some of these items bearing my name and likeness are annexed as Exhibit 3. I also have agreed to endorse certain products, including the "Total Gym" fitness home gym product. I have authorized a commercial licensing company to coordinate a commercial licensing program for the use of my name and image on various products, subject to my specific review and approval. I also appear in some television commercials. These authorized commercial uses of my name and likeness generate significant income and royalties. It is therefore important to me to maintain close control over the use of my name and image.

9. My reputation and credibility are important to me. If I discover that someone is exploiting my name for a commercial purpose, or making money off the use of my name and image, I take action to halt that unauthorized profiteering from the use of my name and identity.
10. I own and maintain an Internet website at ChuckNorris.com. That domain name has been registered to Top Kick Productions ("Top Kick"), my production company, for over ten years, since July 17, 1997. The ChuckNorris.com Website has several sections, including an autobiographical section, messages to my fans, and a "shopping" section where consumers can buy "Chuck Norris" merchandise that I have licensed. Annexed as Exhibit 4 are several pages from the ChuckNorris.com website.
11. I have been aware of mythical "Chuck Norris Facts" for about two years. The "Chuck Norris Facts" ascribe fantastical feats to me – like "Chuck Norris's tears cure cancer; too bad he never cries." Many of them are amusing. When I was asked on television what I thought of them, I agreed that many of them were funny. I do not approve of the ones that are raunchy, racist, or lewd, however. I find them offensive. Those "facts" do not reflect my beliefs or values, in part because I believe that we can achieve success by maintaining a positive mindset and respecting ourselves and others.
12. So long as the "Chuck Norris Facts" are circulated for non-commercial purposes, I have not taken any action to stop them. For instance, I was aware that Ian Spector had a website that listed "Chuck Norris Facts" along with "Facts" about other celebrities, such as Mr. T and Vin Diesel. Because that website was not "commercial" and did not sell products using my name, and because the domain name for that website did not use my name, I did not take action to stop it. However, I have taken action to stop unauthorized commercial uses of my name in a "Chuck Norris Facts" context. For instance, in 2006, I discovered that someone had registered the Internet domain name "ChuckNorrisFacts.com" and was advertising T-shirts using my name on that website. I objected to the use and demanded that the unauthorized person transfer that domain name and the website to me. That transfer was accomplished.

13. The domain name "ChuckNorrisFacts.com" is controlled by me and authorized to use my name. The ChuckNorrisFacts.com website has some "Chuck Norris Facts" and sells "Chuck Norris" products through a licensing arrangement with a company that I have approved to sell them. A copy of the "ChuckNorrisFacts.com" website home page is annexed as Exhibit 5. I also approved the use of my name in a Mountain Dew commercial that spoofed the "Chuck Norris Facts."
14. I did not approve "The Truth about Chuck Norris" (the "Book"), which was published by Defendant Penguin in mid-November 2007, and was authored by Defendant Ian Spector. The Book uses my name prominently in the title and throughout its pages, along with illustrations of me. The title of course is false-- the Book is not a biography of me; it does not discuss the "truth" about me. The preface and afterward of the Book refer to meetings with me and thank me for "playing along." I did not approve of the use of my name or image in the Book. I am concerned that the use of my name in the title, the use of my name and likeness throughout the Book, and the references to meeting me and to my supposed "playing along," will lead my fans and other people to believe that I endorse or approve of this Book.

15. The Book is a collection of "Chuck Norris Facts." Although some of the selected "facts" are amusing, others are racist, feature sexual promiscuity, or involve crude situations that conflict with my personal values and beliefs and/or illegal activities. Many are too vulgar and explicit for me to quote. In contrast to many "clean," good-humored "facts" that are circulating on the Internet, the Book is filled with unsavory "facts" that link my name and my image with morally compromising situations. Many of the Book's illustrations falsely depict me in compromising situations or otherwise are repugnant to my standards. The Book's advertising and sample "facts" on the outside cover do not warn readers of the unsavory nature of some "facts." Nor does the Book warn my fans and the public that I do not approve or endorse the Book. I do not know whether all the facts in the Book were contained in Ian Spector's website listing "Chuck Norris Facts". I think there is a big difference between putting unsavory "facts" in a book that is being marketed to young people, and having them buried in a website that also features other celebrities. I am very concerned that the Book will result in tarnishing my image in the eyes of my fans and young people.
16. The "facts" and illustrations selected by the Defendants are at odds with the honorable all-American values and principles that I live by and promote. I had no input over the use of my name or image in Defendants' Book, in advertising for the Book, or in the Internet domain names "truthaboutchucknorris.com" and "truthaboutchuck.com." I never gave Defendants any license or other permission to use my name or image with the Book or in a domain name. Defendants have stolen my identity for their own commercial gain and have deprived me of my right to control my name, my identity, and reputation.
17. The "acknowledgment" section of the Book thanks me "for playing along" and suggests that I endorsed or approved of the Book. Exhibit 6 is a copy of the cover and the acknowledgement page from the Book. The insincerity of the "acknowledgement" is obvious; I am confident that Mr. Spector and the publisher Penguin knew that I would not approve of their decision to publish this Book without my consent. The Book's forward also refers to my meeting with Mr. Spector. While I did meet him and his father once, in January 2006, we did not discuss the Book or publishing the "facts". At that meeting, I expressed both my amazement at the popular Internet "facts" phenomenon and my concerns about any use of my name and image for commercial purposes. Both Mr. Spector and Penguin had ample opportunity to contact me and seek my consent for their Book, but they deliberately decided to proceed without my approval.

18. Through my attorneys, on October 24, 2007, before the publication of the Book, I formally notified Mr. Spector and Penguin that I did not consent to their use of my name and likeness for this Book. In a subsequent letter, sent by my attorneys on November 16, 2007, I also expressed my concern about Mr. Spector's statement, in an interview in his college newspaper, which suggested that vulgar facts were added to the Book to improve the commercial sales of the Book. Before the publication of the Book, I asked for the opportunity to review it, to see whether I would need to take legal action to protect my name and interests. My request was refused. Before the publication. I did not know that the Book would refer to meeting me, or would "thank me" or otherwise suggest that I approved the Book and its contents. Now that I have seen the Book, I am even more concerned about the exploitation of my name and image, and the false suggestion that I endorsed or approved of the Book.

19. My reputation and credibility with my fans are very important to me. I am concerned that the use of my name and images in the Book, including the factual references to meetings with me and to my "playing along" will mislead my fans and the public into believing that I endorsed and approved of the Book. My fans may incorrectly believe that I have "sold out" on my principles. Even fans familiar with the "facts" phenomenon may be put off by the particular images and facts in this Book. I am also concerned that fans and others looking for information about me will be fooled by the domain names "truthaboutchucknorris" or "truthaboutchuck" into thinking that the domain names link to truthful information about me.

20. I believe that Defendants' unauthorized use of my name and image will interfere with my ability to protect my name and reputation. The Book and Mr. Spector's efforts have generated some publicity. If Defendants' unauthorized uses are not stopped, others will likely think that they also can misappropriate my name and identity for their own uses. Defendants' continued unauthorized use of my name and persona may also impede my current efforts to protect my identity from existing infringers and further undermine my credibility with my fans and the public. It will undoubtedly increase the costs for me to enforce my rights against others, and will encourage resistance to my claims.

21. I am also concerned that the Defendants' unauthorized use of my name and persona will weaken my ability to license my name and image for approved uses. Defendants are depriving me of the ability to control the use of my name and image. Existing licensees may be upset if they see unauthorized merchandise being sold without a license. Defendants' deliberate decision to proceed without my consent may also interfere with prospective licensees and business opportunities.

22. In my films and television shows, I have tried to entertain with a moral: that right-minded people stand up for themselves and respect the rights of others. Defendants are misusing my identity and my good-natured support of the non-commercial "facts" phenomenon for their own profit. Unless Defendants are ordered to stop the unauthorized use of my name, image and persona through commercial sales of the Book or otherwise, I am concerned that my reputation will be harmed, my fans and the public will be misled, and others will be encouraged to take similar liberties without my approval.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America that the foregoing is true and correct.

BIOGRAPHY

Chuck Norris Biography

When you think of Chuck Norris, you either immediately think action movie star (recalling his numerous feature films) or television star, for his long-running CBS television series, "Walker, Texas Ranger."

But prior to that, Chuck was a martial arts star, winning many martial arts championships including being a six-time undefeated World Professional MiddleWeight Karate Champion. Chuck was also a renowned teacher in the martial arts. Some of his students were Steve McQueen, Bob Barker, Priscilla Presley and Donnie & Marie Osmond.

From 1964 to 1968, Chuck won many State, National, and International amateur karate titles. In 1968, Chuck fought and won the World Professional MiddleWeight Karate championships by defeating the World's Top Fighters. He held that title until 1974 when he retired undefeated.

In 1968, Chuck was inducted into the Black Belt Hall of Fame as Fighter of the Year. In 1975, he was inducted as Instructor of the Year and in 1977, Chuck received the honor of Man of the Year.

Chuck is also founder and President of United Fighting Arts Federation with over 2,300 black belts all over the world.

In 1997, Chuck achieved another milestone in his life by being the first man ever in the Western Hemisphere to be awarded an 8th degree Black Belt Grand Master recognition in the Tae Kwon Do system. This was a first in 4,500 years of tradition.

Chuck's intense drive and determination extended beyond his martial arts and acting career. He became an offshore powerboat racer with speeds of 140 miles per hour. In 1991, Chuck with his team and sponsor "Popeye Chicken" won the World Off Shore Powerboat championships. Then he went on to setting a new world record by racing a 38 foot Scarab boat 605 miles across the Great Lakes, from Chicago to Detroit, in 12 hours and 8 minutes.

In 1988, Chuck wrote his autobiography, "The Secret of Inner Strength", for Little Brown Publishing, which became a New York Times Best Seller. He followed up a few years later with a second book, "The Secret Power Within: Zen Solutions to Real Problems", also with Little Brown Publishing.

Chuck was asked how he would like to be remembered. Chuck's answer was as a Humanitarian. He has gotten a good start by:

- 1.) Being the spokesperson for United Way, doing an eight-minute commercial, which helped bring in over two billion dollars.
- 2.) Veterans Administration spokesperson visiting over 12 V.A. hospitals and speaking with World War II, Korean and Vietnam War Veterans including one from World War I.
- 3.) Winning the 1998 Epiphany award on Walker, Texas Ranger for the best Christian program.
- 4.) The Jewish Humanitarian Man of the Year Award.
- 5.) Actively involved with the Make A Wish Foundation for 20 years by making dreams come true for terminally ill children.
- 6.) BMI Music Television Award for Walker, Texas Ranger theme song, "Eyes of a Ranger".
- 7.) Texas Ranger Hall of Fame.
- 8.) Commissioned Police Officer for Terrell, Texas.
- 9.) Motivational speaker for many Christian ministries, such as T.D. Jakes Ministry, Trinity Broadcasting, and Bill Glass Crusade.

But Chuck thinks his most rewarding accomplishment was the creation of his Kick-Start Foundation. With the help of President George Bush, Chuck implemented a program teaching the martial arts to 150 high-risk children at M C Williams Middle School in Houston, Texas, as part of the school curriculum. The program was so successful in helping these kids raise their self-esteem and instilling discipline and respect, as well as getting them out of gangs, that the program is now in 30 schools with over 4,200 young boys and girls actively participating.

FAREWELL LETTER

Chuck Norris
Chairman and Founder
www.kick-start.org

Dear Friends,

When I founded Kick Drugs Out of America in 1990, my primary focus was helping youngsters resist drug-related peer pressures through martial arts training. Of course I understood that the comprehensive benefits to martial arts training far exceed preventing drug use...but that was my primary concern and certainly a major concern for our country.

Within a couple of years of implementation, it became quite clear from evaluation that the impact of the program was much more than helping youngsters resist drugs. Today, our organization is a character building, life-skills program whose fundamental purpose is to give our students the tools to strengthen their self image. When a child develops a strong sense of self-awareness and inner strength, they are able to resist peer pressure including drug and alcohol use and involvement in gangs.

In addition, martial arts training provides them with the core values and philosophies associated with leading a productive and healthy life. That is what we are all about...to give every child a chance for a productive life in which they CAN achieve their goals and dreams. Our current name, while it has served us well, implies too narrow a focus for all that we are accomplishing.

Therefore, we are changing our name to KICK START, which we believe more accurately describes our mission. With our new name and a new marketing focus, we hope to reach more children, which will increase our impact upon the youth of our country.

As always, please know how much your continued support means to me and all of our "karate kids". Now, more than ever, we need you to give every consideration to including using your giving plans.

With warm regards,

Chuck Norris

CHUCK NORRIS STATEMENT REGARDING ENDORSEMENT OF PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE MIKE HUCKABEE

Like many of you, I've been giving a great deal of thought as to which candidate might best lead this country, in this critical time, as our next president. It is a question I am asked quite often by fans and the media.

I've always known that the person to whom I pledge my vote must be someone I can embrace wholeheartedly and enthusiastically. It is now clear to me that the candidate is Arkansas Governor, Mike Huckabee. Mike is a man whose sense of integrity and commitment are supported by a lifetime of accomplishments, strong family values, and clear vision of what America should be and can be. Mike Huckabee is a man of strong moral character and impeccable qualifications. He is the real deal and that is why he has my vote.

Norris and Huckabee appear in a campaign ad running in Iowa.

WASHINGTON (CNN) — Republican presidential candidate Mike Huckabee appears to be milking cult hero Chuck Norris' endorsement for all it's worth.

The former Arkansas governor told reporters on a conference call Monday morning that the "Walker Texas Ranger" star will be joining him at the CNN/YouTube debate this Wednesday night.

"[He] will be part of that experience," Huckabee said. "So it will be fun and hopefully very substantive."

Norris officially endorsed Huckabee last October, hailing him as a "respected and fearless leader" and one who's "not afraid to stand up for a Creator and against secularist beliefs."

Since then Norris has penned a fundraising e-mail on Huckabee's behalf, and even appears alongside the candidate in a television ad running in Iowa.

"When Chuck Norris does a push up, he isn't lifting himself up, he's pushing the world down," Huckabee, quoting the now famous "Chuck Norris Facts," says in the ad.

On Monday, Huckabee credited the ad for brining "a lot of attention" to his presidential bid.

"We had a lot of fun with it and it did exactly what we wanted it to do, and that is drive record numbers of people to our Web site," Huckabee said. "And it has made the rounds on YouTube and as people have e-mailed it to their friends, it has had a big impact on the 18-30 year-old market, which we expected it to do."

Huckabee also brushed aside criticism from some for promoting Norris' endorsement, as well as that of professional wrestler Ric Flair, so heavily.

"The only flak I get is from people who wish they had them," he said. "The rest of the time people are enjoying it and having fun with it as I am."

Huckabee's comments come the same day he announced the release of a new TV ad in Iowa. The 30-second spot, called "Believe," touts his conservative stances on social issues.

World Combat League

The World Combat League (WCL) is the creation of action-film and television star Chuck Norris. Norris has organized the world's most experienced martial arts producers to make the vision become reality. Chuck Norris, as the creative head, has joined together a number of innovators to present the next major American sporting league, and the next generation of martial arts combat entertainment.

World Combat League athletes are well-conditioned, exciting fighters with dynamic kicking skills. To encourage a "full throttle" style of fighting, each fighter will only fight a total of two rounds. This is intended to encourage each fighter to answer the bell with the spirit, desire and determination to earn their team as many points as possible by fighting aggressively every second of each round. The judge's scoring system and the referee's penalty point system is designed to reward this "full throttle" style of fighting and penalize any attempt to stall or be passive.
